Art Intent and Implementation

Why do we teach art?

At Shinfield Infant and Nursery School, we believe that art is an essential part of a child's education. Our intention is that every pupil can creatively express their ideas, thoughts and passions. We inspire to harness children's love of experimenting with art and design, as well as gaining an understanding how art reflects our history, our own and others' culture and creativity of the nation. Our children can access a curriculum that enables children to reach their full potential, by engaging, challenging and inspiring them through exploring and understanding colour, pattern, shape, 3D form, line, tone and texture. Children become confident and proficient in a variety of techniques including drawing, painting, sculpting, as well as collage, printing, patterns and digital medias.

At Shinfield we know that children learn best when the curriculum is well sequenced to enable revisiting of all core knowledge, skills and understanding. Our Art curriculum offers structure and a sequence of lessons to ensure skills are covered that are required to meet the aims of the national curriculum.

We aim to ensure that the Art curriculum we provide will give children the confidence and motivation to continue to further develop their skills into the next stage of their education and life experiences.

What is our curriculum aim?

At Shinfield we aim to develop children's techniques, refining their control and their use of tools and materials, with creativity, experimentation and an increasing awareness of different kinds of art, craft and design. They will explore the textures, movement, feel and look of different media and materials.

Children will link their historical and cultural learning with art and design. All children will use technical vocabulary and pupils are expected to know, apply and understand the matters, skills and processes specified.

Children improve their enquiry skills and inquisitiveness about the world around them and their impact through art and design on the world. Children will become more confident in analysing their work and giving their opinion on their own and other works of art. Children show competences in improving their resilience and perseverance by continually evaluating and improving their work. All children will develop skills to speak confidently about their art and design work.

Art Intent and Implementation

How is art taught at Shinfield?

- The arts are woven through our core classroom curricula as well as teaching specific artistic skills and abilities. We link our art work to topics that the children are learning about rather than following a scheme of work. We build on prior learning and develop visual literacy opportunities. Children are encouraged to think critically about artwork by giving them sentence starters as a way to talk about art, for example, “I like the way the artist has ...” or “In this artwork see ...”
- Each year, skills are developed, different media and techniques are used, and the children’s knowledge and interest in the subject grows. Year groups follow suggested great or cultural artists, although flexibility is encouraged to allow the teachers to use their own and their classes’ interest as well.
